Teaching Background

Steve Watanabe Jr. has been professionally teaching since 2007. Steve works with golfers of all skill levels, from beginners to professionals. He uses his extensive knowledge of the golf swing and eye for detail to help students improve their game. Working within each golfer's capability and skill level, Steve will customize a plan of improvement through the use of V1 Pro HD video software, exercises, drills, range practice and on-course playing lessons. His passion and understanding of the game help his students transfer their new skills to the golf course.
